

I heartily oppose BellSouth's petition to remove regulation of large companies' ISP provision. Such regulation is key for ensuring the viability of smaller providers and maintaining competition in the Broadband marketplace.